

Currently serving as an Interventional Cardiologist at Bangkok Pattaya Hospital, with extensive experience in internal medicine and advanced cardiovascular intervention.

Kitti Nakjuntuk, M.D.

Internal Medicine – Interventional Cardiology

Education & Certifications:

- 1989 • Graduated from Faculty of Medicine, Siriraj Hospital, Mahidol University, Bangkok, Thailand
- 1995 • Obtained Diplomate in Internal Medicine from Faculty of Medicine, Rajavithi Hospital, Bangkok
- 2002 • Achieved Diplomate in Cardiology from Faculty of Medicine, Pramongkutklao Hospital, Bangkok
- 2008 • Certified in Diplomate in Interventional Cardiology, Faculty of Medicine, Pramongkutklao Hospital, Bangkok

Professional Experience:

- 1989 - 1992 • General physician at Tanyarak Hospital, Pathumthani, providing primary care and internal medicine services
- 1995 - 2002 • Internist at Kasemrad Saraburi Hospital, specializing in diagnosis and management of complex medical conditions
- 2004 - 2007 • Practiced as a Cardiologist at Kasemrad Saraburi Hospital, with responsibilities including cardiac evaluation, diagnostics, and treatment
- 2008 - Present • Working as an Interventional Cardiologist at Bangkok Pattaya Hospital, with expertise in managing advanced cardiovascular cases through minimally invasive procedures

Areas of Specialization:

- Diagnostic and interventional cardiology procedures including cardiac catheterization and angioplasty
- Comprehensive care for patients with coronary artery disease, heart failure, arrhythmias, and hypertension
- Long-term cardiovascular risk assessment and management
- Collaborative care with multi-disciplinary cardiac teams for acute and chronic cardiac conditions
- Strong focus on patient education, secondary prevention, and evidence-based interventions

